JQueryGradient

Homepage: http://brandonaaron.net
Author(s): Brandon Aaron Last
Version: 1.0.1-pre

Adds a gradient to the background of an element.

Usage

JavaScript API

This basically looks like this:

```
$('div').gradient({ from: '000000', to: 'CCCCCC' });
```

Options:

- from: The hex color code to start the gradient with. By default the value is "000000".
- to: The hex color code to end the gradient with. By default the value is "FFFFFF".
- direction: This tells the gradient to be horizontal or vertical. By default the value is "horizontal".
- length: This is used to constrain the gradient to a particular width or height (depending on the direction). By default the length is set to null, which will use the width or height (depending on the direction) of the element.
- position: This tells the gradient to be positioned at the top, bottom, left and/or right within the element. The value is just a string that specifices top or bottom and left or right. By default the value is 'top left'.

Foswiki integration

The gradient will be applied to elements with a `jqGradient` class name. Options are specified using JQueryMetadata.
